OGEECHEE RIVERKEEPER LAUNCHES BOOK CLUB FOR MEMBERS

The group will meet virtually to discuss books about nature

Ogeechee Riverkeeper (ORK) is launching a members-only book club, starting August 12. The group will meet virtually once a month to discuss books that focus on nature, water, the outdoors, and more. The titles alternate between fiction and nonfiction, and vary in tone and style. With guided questions and occasional special guests, participants will find new titles, consider themes, and be inspired by writing.

The titles through the end of 2025:

August 12: The Source by Martin Doyle
September 9: Where the Crawdads Sing by Delia Owens
October 14: Is a River Alive? by Robert Macfarlane
November 18: The River by Peter Heller
December 9: A Walk in the Woods by Bill Bryson

The webpage also includes links to local independent bookstores and library catalogs, as well as reader's guides. <https://www.ogeecheeriverkeeper.org/book-club/>

To participate in the reading club, please register for Hooked on Books. You will receive an email with a link to the virtual meeting each month.

Not an ORK member? Join now for discounts, members-only events, and perks like this.

About Ogeechee Riverkeeper: *Ogeechee Riverkeeper 501(c)(3) works to protect, preserve, and improve the water quality of the Ogeechee River basin, which includes all of the streams flowing out to Ossabaw Sound and St. Catherine's Sound. The Canoochee River is about 108 miles long and the Ogeechee River itself is approximately 245 miles long. The Ogeechee River system drains more than 5,500 square miles across 20 counties in Georgia.
